

SABINE's DREAM [a] e3 contd.

"the undercover wagie thing didn't go anywhere. i need new moves."

"Like what"

"Did you buy a gun"

"i think i wanna conduct interviews, cuz like they already did the stuff. maybe talk to like, clean up crews... make a documentary."

"Lol 'and then something strange happened...'"

"i'm starting a new film project." Miri and Lis turn their eyes but not their heads.

"Oh, that's cool."

"yeah. i think it'll be like, half documentary or something. do something with all my research."

"Research?"

"yeah, like my local history stuff."

"That's cool."

"yeah if you guys ever wanna 'location scout' with me, go to calvert cliffs or something. i think that'd be a good spot."

"Like a field trip?"

"haha"

There's a glass temple with golden angel statues near my house for some cult where they use light energy from the sun and it's channeled into the healers hands and directed into the healee's body and they have a pretty good presence on youtube. The angel is positioned between two spiral staircases but the place is just that, not even an office in the back. One time I see a guy beating the door mat outside.

There's a family nudist club next to the pool my neighbors took me to that does eyes wide shut themed new year parties. The National Cryptologic Museum where I went on field trips as a kid they bring school buses into the NSA and have bad histories of WW1 on placards. People lived here and had to shower after leaving work at the Anthrax Tower. They had Kill Tanks. There's mass graves on my dad's favorite bike trail and next to my elementary school and they mention it in the Wire. They had Nazis working in buildings I drove past on my prom night. But there were highways and trees I passed too.

This facility violates international bio-weapons research law and domestic laws regarding gain of function research by adding K cells or other proteins to viral diseases to increase their propagation amongst the civilian population. This is publicly known information. This setup is a glorified crisp setup with collection labs all over the world. Be brave and become a whistleblower!!
